

Fact Sheet 6

I'M ALERT Food Safety Training

The Law

All licensed food businesses have a legal responsibility to produce safe & suitable foods. Council assist food business in meeting this requirement by providing FREE online access to the I'M ALERT food safety training package.

I'M ALERT is a food safety training package that was designed by experts from Environmental Health Australia. The program allows local food handlers to have access to quality food safety training, 24hrs a day, and seven days a week. There is no fee; all you need is the internet and access to a printer.

Minimum system requirements include

- Internet connection
- Adobe flash player version 6 or higher
- 32MB of system memory
- 265 colour VGA monitor
- Sound card & speakers (or headphones)
- printer

Training package

- Contains all relevant food safety topics, including, Food Receipt, Food Storage, Hygiene of Food Handlers, Hand Washing, Temperature Control, Foodborne Illness, Cleanliness, Animals & pests etc.
- Ability to only select the topic that needs to be reviewed.
- Interactive quizzes
- Printable certificate
- Remind me option - prompts the user to undertake revision training after a nominated period.
- Notify option that enables the user to notify others of their completion of the Food Handler Training program, such as your Environmental Health Officer.

Visit www.wdrc.imalert.com.au to begin your training experience now.

For further information,
contact Council:

Customer Service

1300 COUNCIL
www.wdrc.qld.gov.au